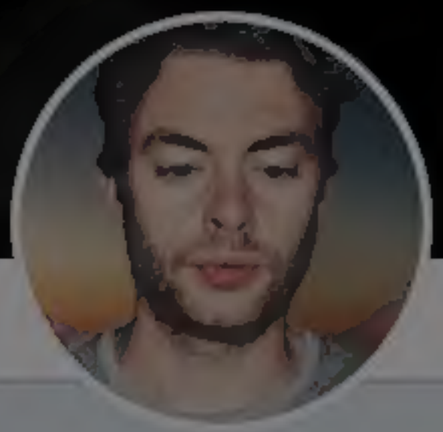
Why the deep state hates Flynn.

He called them out for being soft on and encouraging Islamic terrorism.

The firing of Lieutenant General Michael Flynn was a major victory for the villains in the resistance movement. In the words of Eli Lake, Flynn was "a fat target." As the former director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, Flynn was a fierce critic of the CIA, which he blamed for failing to foresee the rise of the Islamic State. He was also someone Trump liked and whose opinions he respected.



"Flynn warned [as far back as 2014] that the United States was actually less safe from the threat of terrorism…than it was prior to the 9/11 attacks," wrote Politico's James Kitfield. "In remarkably blunt comments for a general still in uniform, Flynn admitted to feeling like a lone voice inside an Obama administration that seemed to believe that the 2011 death of Osama bin Laden had signaled the end of radical Islamic terrorism as a seminal threat."

Wokism is extremism. Good sense from Lord Blunkett, who immediately rejects Burgon's definition of woke as just being against discrimination, and understands that it is actually a dangerous form of extemism that Labour must disavow.

Blunkett is right.

The "woke" crap doesn't translate as well in Britain because unlike in America, there's less tolerance for pedantic, performative drama queening.

Unfortunately, that doesn't mean the "Conservative" government isn't simultaneously shite.

Sky's deputy political editor Sam Coates has been up. He had a screen with him with the prime minister's own four tests for moving to the next stage of the roadmap out of lockdown on it.

He highlighted to the PM that the figure "very explicitly says there can't be variants of concern changing the assessment" before asking "given the fact cases of Indian variant have almost tripled in a week how can you say the UK is passing that test?"

Utter lunacy.

California Plans a Return to Normal Never

A reader has sent us the Governor of California's guidance for lifting COVID-19 restrictions. Depressing stuff.

WIDESPREAD Most non-essential indoor business operations are closed	More than 7 Daily new cases (per 100k)	More than 8% Positive tests
SUBSTANTIAL Some non-essential indoor business operations are closed	4-7 Daily new cases (per 100k)	5-8% Positive tests
MODERATE Some business operations are open with modifications.	1-3.9 Daily new cases (per 100k)	2-4.9% Positive tests
Most business operations are open with modifications.	Less than 1 Daily new cases (per 100k)	Less than 2% Positive tests

Tom Woods @[illegible]

This means no return to normal, ever. Given the problem of false positives alone, how can these numbers ever be reached. A member of the Joe Rogan Show Elite pointed out some pertinent facts here. Since 42 of the 58 California counties have fewer than 500K people, a mere five cases per day will keep restrictions in place. Some 23 counties will be forced to keep some restrictions in place with just one case per day. These guidelines are being released at the very moment that hospitalizations are plummeting — but hospital capacity no longer guides state policy, even though that was the original pretext behind the initial "flattening the curve" propaganda.

Why do the "good, progressive, beneficent people" always venerate ugliness?

A far-right architecture obsession just became a Trump executive order -- and Tucker Carlson was the middleman

In 2017 AltoWars personality Paul Joseph Watson released a video titled "Why Modern Architecture Sucks." The video takes much the same tone as Carlson's segment describing modern architectural styles as visual representations of submissiveness to authority blaming post World War Jewish radical architects attacking abstract artists and accusing modern architecture of detailing crimes. Watson and Carlson both describe society's choice of architecture and aesthetic as directly relational to societal values

The Beano has renamed its cartoon character 'Fatty' as 'Freddie'. The name's changed, but the visual joke - lampooning someone for being greedy - persists. So, other than securing publicity, what's the point? Detaching words from observed reality is worthy of Pravda, not a comic.

The central fantasy in the Cummings testimony is that he and a couple of brainiacs invented lockdown late in the night in Number Ten, bravely going against the consensus.

In reality it was simply the UK falling into line with the same policy as the rest of the Western world.

Flynn is definitely a sane and normal guy

Ron Filipkowski @RonFilipkowski
Michael Flynn said today that covid was a conspiracy to control the American people and divert attention away from stealing the election. He said it is not a problem in the rest of world, and he doesn't worry about it.

So if the Wuhan lab leak theory is confirmed to be true, mainstream media & social media censorship helped facilitate one of the biggest cover-ups in modern history.

All in the name of "stopping misinformation."

Why should they be trusted to be the arbiters of truth ever again?

LOL. Clinton campaign blames #SpiritCooking scandal on Vladimir Putin.

#SpiritCooking, Um, what? The top trend on Twitter on Friday morning relates to an alleged email released by WikiLeaks. The alleged email to Clinton campaign chairman John Podesta mentions a spirit cooking dinner. WikiLeaks tweeted that this involves "blood sperm and breastmilk." Spirit cooking refers to performance artist Mar na Abramovic's "cookbook" of recipes to cook up thoughts not meals However some on Twitter are taking it to the extreme and accusing the former secretary of state of devil worship. "This is not the first or last time that Wik Leaks has tweeted propaganda while doing Putin's bidding," a Clinton campaign representative wrote in an email. CNET cannot independently verify the information in the alleged email, and it s be entirely possible that someone altered the email before it was publicly released.

Biden claims that white supremacy is the most lethal threat to our country. Meanwhile in reality the majority of murders aren't even committed by white people let alone white supremacists. Whites are vastly underrepresented among violent criminals. Biden is a despicable liar.

At the very minimum, this shows lab leak (or worse) was taken exceedingly seriously and was never a "conspiracy theory."

At the maximum, it opens up questions of an unprecedented global cover up.

Either way establishment politicians and corporate media look worse than ever.

Subject: Re: FW: Science: Mining coronavirus genomes for clues to the outbreak's origins

Hi Tony,

Thanks for sharing. Yes, I saw this earlier today and both Eddie and myself are actually quoted in it. It's a great article, but the problem is that our phylogenetic analyses aren't able to answer whether the sequences are unusual at individual residues, except if they are completely off. On a phylogenetic tree the virus looks totally normal, and the close clustering with bats suggest that bats serve as the reservoir. The unusual features of the virus make up a really small part of the genome (<0.1%) so one has to look really closely at all the sequences to see that some of the features (potentially) look engineered.

We have a good team lined up to look very critically at this, so we should know much more at the end of the weekend. I should mention that after discussions earlier today, Eddie, Bob, Mike, and myself all find the genome inconsistent with expectations from evolutionary theory. But we have to look at this much more closely and there are still further analyses to be done, so those opinions could still change.

Essential worker: "Social distancing is virtually non-existent."

I am what you would call an 'essential worker'. I am a student who currently works at a supermarket around 4 or five days a week. My brother who I currently live with is also in this category and he works at a different supermarket in the same town. Aside from the odd 'douchey middle class mum', social distancing is 'virtually non existent'. Constantly have people coming up close to me asking where to find flour and the aisles are too narrow to conceivably practice it anyway. There is no limit on how many people can enter the shop. None of the staff wear masks as wearing one for a prolonged period of time (c 6 hours) is extremely uncomfortable and having to readjust them or touching your face completely destroys the purpose of wearing one. The staff room and the toilets are pretty filthy so more so than ever with no hand sanitiser for touching every single appliance. The staff themselves don't practice any form of social distancing as it makes their job literally impossible. Not to mention, everyone is working twice as hard to stock the shelves because people still continue to stock pile. My only defence against covid is constant hand sanitising and refraining from ever touching my face which ironically is probably the best scientific defence against contracting the virus.

If paying fans want to boo the act of taking a knee, they are perfectly entitled to do so.

The act is associated with the #BlackLivesMatter movement, which is far from inclusive and linked with radical political objectives.

The booing fans don't need a lecture from celebrities.

Essential worker: "Social distancing is virtually non-existent."

I am what you would call an 'essential worker'. I am a student who currently works at a supermarket around 4 or five days a week. My brother who I currently live with is also in this category and he works at a different supermarket in the same town. Aside from the odd 'sheltered middle class mum', social distancing is 'virtually non existent'. constantly have people coming up close to me asking where to find flour and the aisles are too narrow to conceivably practice it within. There is no limit on how many people can enter the shop. None of the staff wear masks as wearing one for a prolonged period of time (c 6 hours) is extremely uncomfortable and having to readjust them or touching your face completely destroys the purpose of wearing one. The staff room and the toilets are pretty filthy so more so that I wash my hand sanitiser for touching every single appliance. The staff themselves don't practice any form of social distancing as it makes their job literally impossible. Just to mention, everyone is working twice as hard to stock the shelves because people still continue to stock pile. We only defence against covid is constant hand sanitising and refraining from ever touching our face which ironically is probably the best scientific defence again coronavirus out there.

Southgate's stance on 'take a knee' is utterly moronic.

Even if you support BLM talking points, it's a performative gesture that achieves nothing.

By performing it, England players only create more division between fans, whose boos then demoralize the players before games.

> Abstract
> Whiteness is a condition one first acquires and then one has—a malignant, parasitic-like condition to which "white" people have a particular susceptibility. The condition is foundational, generating characteristic ways of being in one's body, in one's mind, and in one's world. Parasitic Whiteness renders its hosts' appetites voracious, insatiable, and perverse. These deformed appetites particularly target nonwhite peoples. Once established, these appetites are nearly impossible to eliminate. Effective treatment consists of a combination of psychic and social-historical interventions. Such interventions can reasonably aim only to reshape Whiteness's infiltrated appetites—to reduce their intensity, redistribute their aims, and occasionally turn those aims toward the work of reparation. When remembered and represented, the ravages wreaked by the chronic condition can function either as warning ("never again") or as temptation ("great again"). Memorialization alone, therefore, is no guarantee against regression. There is not yet a permanent cure.

Exception 12: protests

5. Exception — (1) that the gathering is for the purposes of protest and—

(a) it has been organised by a business, a charitable, benevolent or philanthropic institution, a public body or a political body, and

(b) the gathering organiser takes the required precautions in relation to the gathering.

BREAKING: Congressman Matt Gaetz calls on FBI Director Christopher Wray to fully disclose the role and involvement of FBI operatives during the January 6th Capitol riot.

More details coming.

Rep. Matt Gaetz

Official Twitter for Congressman Matt Gaetz. Proud conservative who is honored to serve the First District of Florida

gaetz.house.gov

June 15, 2021

The Honorable Christopher Wray
Federal Bureau of Investigation
935 Pennsylvania Avenue NW
Washington, DC 20535
VIA EMAIL: oca@fbi.gov; eglandis@fbi.gov

Director Wray:

As the events of January 6, 2021, come to clearer relief many questions remain unanswered. On June 8, 2021, the Senate Homeland Security Committee and the Senate Rules Committee jointly produced a 95-page report finding problems ranging from "federal intelligence agencies failing to warn of a potential for violence, to a lack of planning and preparation by U.S. Capitol Police and law enforcement leadership."

I am seeking your answers to clarify the following questions:

1. In the year leading up to the events on 1/6 and during 1/6 itself, to what extent were the three primary militia groups (the Oath Keepers, the Proud Boys, and the Three Percenters), infiltrated by agencies of the federal government (including the FBI), or informants of said agencies?

2. Exactly how many federal undercover agents or confidential informants were present at the Capitol or in the Capitol during the "siege" and what roles did they play (merely passive informants or active instigators)?

3. Of all the unindicted co-conspirators referenced in the charging documents of those indicted for crimes on 1/6, how many worked as a confidential informant

The strength of national pride exhibited by the Scots in London tonight puts us to shame. When will the English be proud of being English again? Orwell put it well:

> • "In intention, at any rate, the English intelligentsia are Europeanized. They take their cookery from Paris and their opinions from Moscow. In the general patriotism of the country they form a sort of island of dissident thought. England is perhaps the only great country whose intellectuals are ashamed of their own nationality. In left-wing circles it is always felt that there is something slightly disgraceful in being an Englishman and that it is a duty to snigger at every English institution, from horse racing to suet puddings. It is a strange fact, but it is unquestionably true that almost any English intellectual would feel more ashamed of standing to attention during 'God save the King' than of stealing from a poor box."

For not following WHO guidelines, Twitter put a misleading warning on a March 15 tweet when I wrote that children do not need the COVID vaccine. Since WHO now reached the same conclusion, maybe Twitter can remove the warning.

Alex Berenson @AlexBerenson
So are @youtube and @facebook gonna censor @who for disinformation for recommending that no one under 18 get the #Covid vaccine?.

In a democracy, power is given not taken.

But it is still power.

Love, compassion, caring have no use for it.
But it is fuel for greed, hostility, jealousy...

All power corrupts.

Take care which powers you allow a democracy to wield.

Got my copy of John Money's "Sexual Signatures" in the mail today.
This is the pioneering sexologist in the field of "transgenderism" recommending showing pornography to children to help them understand their "gender identity".

SEXUAL SIGNATURES

society is hopelessly confused about what the proper moral context is

The same principles apply to the use of explicit sexual pictures. They can and should be used as part of a child's sex education, but where can parents and teachers find suitable pictures? The sophisticated drawings in a book like Alex Comfort's The Joy of Sex (1972) are much too elaborate and fanciful to be useful as a primer and straightforward photographs are not easy to find. For example some of the best photographs we've seen are badly reproduced on cheap paper in The Pictorial Guide to Sexual Intercourse by Schwenda and Leuchner (1969) which is available (if it still is, only in some of the unsavory "adult" bookshops

The best time to introduce such pictures is before a child's biological clock has signaled the start of puberty. Prepubertal children are intellectually capable of understanding sex and their curiosity about life runs high. They will no doubt find these pictures erotically stimulating but as the novelty wears off they will soon settle down and accept the information in the matter-of-fact way they accept information about other facets of adult life. If their first exposure to pictures of sexual relations be-

Hey, it's your favorite gamer Pinkie Rose Psychopath here. Each month I work very hard to bring you this fun, informative, here's not much that I can do about it. A few days ago I was live streaming my playthrough of Second Sight when someone commented how cute my necklace was that's when I stupidly let it slip that my boyfriend got them for me.

KEEPING FEAR IN OUR FACES

Face coverings, or masks, appeal to 'norms' and social conformity The behavioural psychologists love masks They absolutely love them They believe they promote collectivism, the feeling that we are all 'in it together' This attitude clearly gleaned from my interviews with the SPI B advisors, was confirmed when David Halpern answered MPs questions and said, 'It took a long time to get people in masks Our view early on was that masks are effective, not least because of the signal they create and of course the underlying evidence' So, he believed there was evidence in favour of masks, but note that 'signal' comes before 'evidence' Behavioural scientists pushed for masks because they create a 'signal', when in fact not a single Randomised controlled trial can demonstrate the ...lue of mask-wearing outside clinical settings.

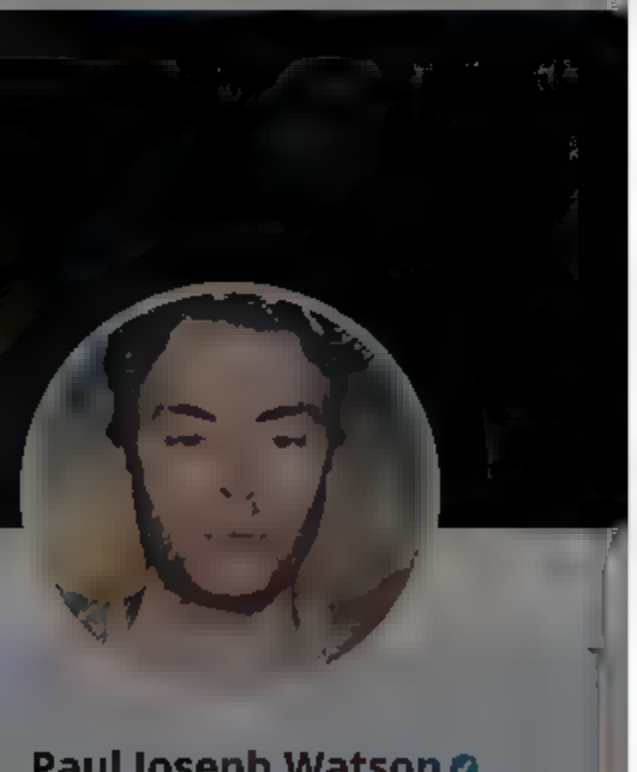
I have several disabilities, physical and psychological. I am unable to wear a face mask because I have PTSD from sexual trauma as a young teen. I'm sorry for TMI but it's relevant. I was raped and penetrated in my mouth too. Due to this, nothing can cover my mouth, it's an instant panic attack.



I had to attend the minor injuries unit at hospital yesterday When I approached the desk to book in, I was instantly ordered to put on a mask. One was offered to me, and I replied I was unable to do so due to a mental health condition The receptionist fetched a nurse who asked why I was refusing to wear one and said that if I did not, then I would be removed from the unit This area is very open and very public, with other patients being seen at the side of me. I asked for a private area, and this was refused. I was also wearing a sunflower lanyard.

Society has returned to censorship, taboos and forced rituals. It's just that the other side is now in control.

unherd.com/2021/07/the-we ...

> This is not some dark new age of cancel culture however it's just a return to normality. Those who grew up in the late 20th century were living in a highly unusual time one that could never be sustained a sexual and cultural revolution that began in 1963 or 1968. But it has ended and as all revolutionaries must do after storming the Bastille, they have built Bastilles of their own. The new order has brought in numerous methods used by the old order to exert control not just censorship but word taboo and rituals which everyone is forced to go along with, or at least not openly criticise. You might call it the new intolerance or woke extremism, but all societies need the policing of social norms.

> No one would satirise the transgender movement today no one would dare point fun at BLM or Pride month no one would dare joke about George Floyd, because like the publishers of Gay Times in 1977, they might face jail for blasphemy. Instead leading satirist Sacha Baron Cohen makes a living making jokes at the expense of the little people. Indeed the only satire made now pokes fun at the old establishment, like punching the corpse of a once ferocious zoo animal. Or the people who still hold the old beliefs, the elderly, the less educated, the rural and provincial. The powerless.

Jab uptake in the the youth is low so they've brought out the coercion. It worked well in the older adults - no jab no holiday. Once the youth panic and start getting jabbed they'll drop it.

Besides the ethical, disgusting issues surrounding this who funds this, every pub would have to have people on the doors to manage this or what face a fine. Do these people have to be employed through the day or does covid only come out at night.

Why did this twat block replies?

Maybe because he's a fucking pussy who threatens people with violence who disagree with him, but despite being a big, butch rugby guy, he can't handle responses on Twitter.

Pathetic little knobhead wanker who is scared of tweets.

Serious question, why did Southgate choose to make a 19-year old kid take the crucial 5th penalty?

126 77 985

Ben Mayne @benjamin_mayne · 9m

The 5th penalty is no more crucial than the other 4 and in fact would not have even been taken if Jorginho scored.

Theresa May has publicly supported the racist, criminal seizure of white-owned land in South Africa, a policy that could lead to mass starvation and widespread murder.

No Conservative MP who claims to have a conscience can support this embarrassment of a leader any longer.

When an idiot fan invades the pitch, the TV cameras quite rightly turn away to ensure he doesn't get the publicity he craves and to discourage others from doing the same. When a tiny number of idiots racially abuse players, we give them wall-to-wall media coverage. Go figure.

Many people are still somehow unable to grasp that racism also exists in non-white countries (and is almost always worse).

Let's see a breakdown of where those people who posted the racist comments after the England game actually come from.

Literally every shop, restaurant, pub, education facility, government facility, bank, form of transport and event could do the same if not expressly forbidden by law - and many will, perhaps the majority.

So in other words - not a "lifting" of restrictions at all.

The worldview of the providential class
Dairymple writes that if despite everything, immigrants or people of immigrant descent especially those of different races are prospering and integrating well into society.
there is no need of a providential class of academics journalists bureaucrats, and others to rescue them from the slough of despond supposedly brought about by prejudice and discrimination Many a career opportunity would be lost if there were no systemic injustices of this sort to untangle
For the providential class, ethnic minorities in Britain are mired in an oppressive neo-apartheid State
The only solution is felt to be virtually totalitarian control over society by the providential class.
Needed measures range from the imposition of quotas in employment to censorship of what is said even in private

I don't know who needs to hear this (again), but booing a gesture inextricably linked with a violent, hateful, racist extremist group isn't the same as racially abusing someone.

Boris Johnson has promised to ban people guilty of sending racist abuse to footballers from attending matches.

The PM said he would take "practical steps" to crack down on the kind of racism faced by some players after England lost Sunday's Euro 2020 final.

He promised to change football banning orders to include online abuse.

But Labour leader Sir Keir Starmer said the PM's words rang "hollow", as he had refused condemn fans who booed players for taking the knee.

The proposed "sugar tax" isn't about health, it isn't about the NHS, it's about taxation to pay for bigger government.

Gov knows you won't reduce your sugar intake.

Just like a 20 a day smoker, doesn't cut down on cigarettes. Though, tobacco taxes are sky high.

It's a scam.

You might think it's wonderful to see the @vagina_museum bravely explaining how people ought to speak.

But until they change their name to "Front Hole Museum", they're basically fascists.

Vagina Museum @vag[illegible]

Here are some really easy changes you can include in your language moving forward instead of 'sanitary products' say 'menstrual products' instead of 'feminine hygiene products' say 'period products' instead of 'becoming a woman', say 'starting puberty'

[illegible]

Vagina Museum @vagina[illegible]

instead of 'women's health' say 'reproductive health' or 'gynaecological health' (whatever you prefer) instead of 'women and girls' say 'people who menstruate' or 'people who have periods' default is to start looking at your everyday speech. Instead of using gender specific terms to describe professions and people like 'fireman' opt for gender-neutral term such as 'firefighter' and so on.

[illegible]

Vagina Museum @vagina_[illegible]

Remember it takes practice and it's okay to mess up. Try not to have a knee-jerk reaction when somebody flags this with you. We're all learning as language is evolving.

As if these weak, pathetic losers think they can prevent us from seeing our friends and family. They think they can deny us from seeing the people we love. Fuck these cunts. We will hug, and kiss and embrace our brethren, because we're real fucking human beings.

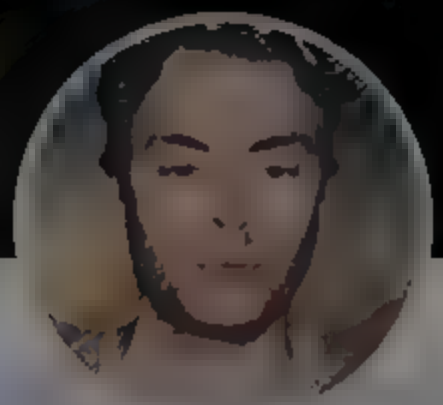
1/ Cloth face masks are 'comfort blankets' that do little to curb Covid spread, UK C19 adviser warns. Sr lecturer in engineering, accused medics of presenting a "cartoonish" view of how tiny particles travel through the air. msn.com/en-gb/lifestyl ...



Standard face coverings are just "comfort blankets" that do little to reduce the spread of Covid particles, a scientist advising Sage on ventilation has said Dr Colin Axon, who has advised the government on minimising the risk of cross-infection in supermarkets, accused medics of presenting a "cartoonish" view of how how tiny particles travel through the air He warned some cloth masks have gaps which are invisible to the naked eye, but are 500,000 times the size of viral Covid particles. "The small sizes are not easily understood but an imperfect analogy would be to imagine marbles fired at builders' scaffolding, some might hit a pole and rebound, but obviously most will fly through," he told The Telegraph. Dr Axon said the public need to be offered a wider view of the science behind face masks, rather than the "partial view" of information being pushed by medics over their effectiveness. "Medics have this cartoonised view of how particles move through the air it's not their fault, it's not their domain - they've got a cartoonish view of how the world is," he said. "Once a particle is not on a biological surface it is no longer a biomedical issue, it is simply about physics. The public has only a partial view of the story if information only comes from one type of source. Medics have some of the answers but not a whole view " Dr Axon, Brunel University's senior lecturer in engineering, said that the true mechanisms involved are best evaluated through science "When the particle enters another body it returns to a biomedical issue but the mask debate is about the particle journey," he said. "Masks can catch droplets and sputum from a cough but what is important is that SARS CoV-2 is predominantly distributed by tiny aerosols."

Prof. Neil Ferguson said there'd be 100,000 cases a day upon easing lockdown, so, by now.

There isn't anywhere near that number.

Yet still, we hear more about the '£350 million a week for the NHS' than we ever do the fear-mongering figures used to justify crippling lockdowns.

Why do all these top level western athletes keep withdrawing from major tournaments for "mental health reasons."

Is it because social media has seriously caused such issues, or are they using it as an excuse?

Genuine question.

9/11 people jumped from burning buildings to their deaths to avoid slowly being cooked to death by fire.

We saw it all, some lived it, saw closest family members die on live TV, and wondered how many more were next.

January 6th was a bunch of soccer hooligans by comparison.

Been looking for an article to put my feelings into words. This is it.

I'm beyond angry. I'm furious. Since mask mandates returned where I live, I've been filled with wrath towards the unvaccinated.

It makes me want them punished. I want THEM to suffer this time. I want THEM to stay home this time.

Why the fuck am I wasting another year of my 20s to protect some uneducated, stubborn, childish, science-denying morons? Tell me why???

I've never been so angry in my entire life.

Quitting at the first sign of trouble, abandoning your team mates and letting down your country isn't an "inspiration."

It isn't "heroic and courageous."

People need to realize how vile it is for AOC to claim that she was scared of being raped on 1/6 when she wasn't even in the building.

She trivialized the atrocity of rape and tried to use the horror of sexual violence to emotionally manipulate people to score political points.

Life is struggle.

Telling young people that the way to deal with hardships is through weakness and fragility isn't helping them.

It's inducting them into a lifetime of undignified dependency and misery.

Jared, inciting the doxxing of people for listening to a Spotify playlist isn't a real job.

Jared Holt @JaredHolt

Fun fact about this. On Spotify, you can view who subscribed to these playlists. Because a lot of people have linked their Facebook profiles to Spotify, that means there are a lot of names of run-of-the-mill movement supporters. Awful infosec, as typical, from these movements twitter.com/RightWingWatch.

The behavior of the German riot police during this past weekend's demonstrations looked like something out of the 1930's.

But no one cares because anti-lockdown protesters have been vilified & dehumanized.

They'll openly support kids being punched & old ladies being assaulted.

There was a time when we honored those who created the prosperity and the freedom that we enjoy. Today we honor the complainers and sue the creators. Perhaps that's inevitable in an era when we no longer count our blessings, but instead count all our unfulfilled wishes.

Just saw two different sets of people sat at an outside restaurant put their masks on for the 10 yard walk from their table to the exit (outside the entire time). This is in England, where there isn't even a mask mandate in place.

Ludicrous.

I love that all Twitter criticism of Joe Rogan boils down to jealous whining about the "responsibility of his reach"

He has that reach BECAUSE he speaks his mind.

If you think your personal "platform" includes responsibility for your listeners, that's called a messiah complex.

CNN's Chris Cuomo is a 'real man' because he knows how to drink a glass of water.

This is the same guy who said parents who didn't want their 12-year-old daughters to be in locker rooms with naked transgenders were "intolerant".

Nope.

Men and women can only be "friends" and hang out with no romantic/sexual component if one of them is fat, ugly or gay.

Anyone who denies this is lying to themselves.

Anyone who is married or in a relationship, who has a opposite sex very close friendship—eventually ends destroying your romantic relationship

Most of the time, it's not due to physical impropriety. It's due to having that friend as the emotional equal with your spouse

You forgot "taken" as in they're already in a relationship, say with my best friend That is a no go zone and completely off-limits and in those cases, I can just shut it off

All these people saying 'we' should have stayed in Afghanistan do not mean themselves. They mean young men from de-industrialised cities.

A monster America made but can't tame

TURN on the BBC and you are certain to hear some voice urging that we 'stay' in Afghanistan or return there. By 'we', of course, they mean the poor bloody infantry, the people who always end up fulfilling the ideals of political blowhards.

Look, our Empire collapsed in bankruptcy more than 70 years ago. We have no more business in Afghanistan than do the Austrians or the Poles. Nor would we do any good if we returned. That poor country has done nothing but suffer at the hands of meddling outsiders. It was attacked in 2001 because the USA did not dare name or attack the country that was really the origin of the September 11 attacks, and still doesn't. You'll have to wait, or guess, too – the reports remain sealed, though the CIA and White House know what's in them.

from deindustrialised cities in Britain and North America to be killed, or have limbs blown off, so Cherie Blair, Hillary Clinton and the rest of the sisterhood can feel good about the treatment of women in Kandahar seems out of proportion.

If Afghanistan now falls into the hands of non-feminists, it is largely because the USA, in a piece of cynical mischief unmatched in modern history, colluded there with Saudi Arabia to help Islamist mujahideen against the USSR in the 1980s. They created a monster they couldn't control, destroy or defeat.

As for those Afghans we now leave to the mercy of the fanatics, our leaders surely knew this would happen in the end. It's another illustration of the old rule: don't make promises you cannot keep.

Europe is preparing for more cultural enrichment, with up to 3 million Afghan refugees on the way.

Because it went so well the first time around!

The UK has announced that Afghan refugees will be allowed into the country without them needing to show a passport.

Meanwhile, I'm gonna have to show my ID and vaccine passport to go to a football match in my own country.

He was right.

CAPITALIST INSANITY.

A scientific prophecies that by the year 2040 the inhabitants of the world will all be insane. Some of us are inclined to think that today the world is one huge insane asylum, where the sane are kept in bondage by the in-sane
